WANT YOU to stop advertising that Londonderry Lithia was discovered by the doctors to be a remedy for rneumatism, &c. Now, I was born right in sight of that spring of yours, have lived there ever since and knew it would cure rheumatism when your folks wore short clothes. I dipped the water with a pewter mug, and filled kegs for people who had rheumatism, years and years before your new-fangled pumps and fancy bottling machines were invented. We old "I asked the policeman to show me the way home," said the prisoner. "The policeman sent for the patrol wagon, and instead of sending me home he sent me to the police station."

Your fancy chemists try to tell me what is in this water, but I tell them it was always there, and that it would have staid there and cured folks if they had never been born! I may seem crusty, but I don't like to see you folks try to shove all the credit of discovering this spring on doctors and fancy apothecaries.

Sunday. Congratulatory unjust charge against the wife who is the right after he reached here from Virginia. The badly frightened wife was afraid to live with him, but being unable to decide exactly what was best for her she did not leave home, but remained there until between 12 and 1 o'clock this morning, when her jealous husband, who was unde the influence of liquor, drove her out with her six-months'-old child in her arms. She sought shelter in a neighbor's house and had Policemen Heller and Judge go to her house to look out for the safety of her children. Her husband had the pistol and she feared he would do some injury to the little ones.

The officers went quietly to the house and there they found the man sitting on a bed in one of the rooms on the upper floor. He had the pistol in his hand, but it was held in his coat pocket. Off to the second precinct station he was taken and locked up.
When he appeared in Judge Miller's cour this morning he showed plainly the effects of last night's spree and he blamed liquor or all his trouble.

He Was Drunk.

"He made charges against me which are utterly untrue," said the wife. "I was drunk," he said, "and that's all there is about it." "Where did you get that pistol?" the

IN HOTEL CORRIDORS.

"The railroad tax case which is now under consideration by the Supreme Court presents a very simple question," said Gov. Matthews of Indiana at the Riggs House this morning. "For many years the railroads in Indiana were assessed at very low and altogether unfair figures. A law was passed creating a state board of assessment, composed of the governor, the secretary and auditor of state and two other members to be appointed by the governor The duty of this body was to heard appeals from assessments of all sorts of property over the state whose owners de-sired an adjustment of differences, and it was clothed with original power to assess railroads, telegraph and telephone comrailroads, telegraph and telephone companies and express companies. In pursuance of this power the board increased the assessment of the railroads from $90,000,000,000 to $160,000,000. The railroads, of course, strenuously objected. Some of them paid the increased taxes without objection, some paid them under protest, and some refused to pay them altogether. The claim was made that the law was unconstitutional, and the novel plea was also put forward that where a railroad ran through another state than Indiana that the board had assessed the increased value of its property caused by its connections outside of the state, and that this was in violation of the interstate commerce law. The action of state, and that this was in violation of the interstate commerce law. The action of the state board has been upheld by the lower and supreme court of Indiana, and I believe these decisions will be sustained by the Supreme Court of the United States."

"What is the political complexion out in Indiana?"

Indiana?"
"Democratic!" exclaimed the governor.
"The democratic party is very strong with the people in my state because it has never failed to redeem a single promise contained in the party platform in the past twenty years. Every law for the betterment of the conditions of Indiana people that has been passed for the same period has been enacted by a democratic legislature. What we demand now is that the promises in the national platform should be as religiously kept. We want the Wilson bill passed as it left the House. It is not entirely suitable to us, but it is a step in the right direction. We want the national democrats here to prevent the veto of the Bland crats here to prevent the veto of the Bland seignlorage bill. If the party representa-tives in Washington will only do their duty and carry out platform promises, as the Indiana democracy invariably has done, the Hoosiers will testify their appreciation by pushing their state away up on the list of victorious democratic states."

"That was a very excellent suggestion of Senator Kyle's," said Judge Robert Christy at Willard's today. "He was conversing about the advance of Coxey's Good Roads Association, as the namesake of the organization terms his army, and remarked that if the coming legions would only improve the roads on their way to Washington they would not fail to be received with caressing affection. There is so much practical good sense in the Senator's remark that I think you would perform a patriotic duty by sending a marked copy of The Star to the general in command."

Fair for St. Clement's. There will be a fair and bazaar at Masonic Temple next week for the benefit of St. Clement's P. E. Church at Brookland. As sistance will be given by nearly all the Episcopal churches in the city, and the ladies who have been active in promoting the affair believe that they will present as array of attractive features equal to any that has ever been seen in Washington.

W. C. T. U. Quarterly Meeting. The W. C. T. U. will hold its quarterly meeting tomorrow at the Vermont Avenue Christian Church. The expectation is that ex-Representative Hiram Price will be present and make an address. The exer-cises generally will be of an unusually interesting character.

The Moody Choir. There was a meeting of the members of Presbyterian Church last evening. Arrangements were made for the proposed trip to Richmond. It was stated that the party would leave here on Saturday by a special train and return on Monday. Plans for the charity concert to be held in Con-vention Hall April 6, were discussed and Occasionally varicocele will fasten itself upon a man and progress to a serious stage without pain, dragging down, or debility to warn bim of the insidious nature of the terrible foe that has him in its relentless grasp. It is, however, more frequently accompanied with one or more danger signals, such as pouchy, sore, distended veins, nervousness, mental depression, tired feelings, enlargements in lower part of abdomen, failing ambition, and memory, with impairment of sensibility and power. The alleged "scientific methods" for the treatment of varicoccle are injecting, looping, cauterizing, or cutting the prolapsed and distended veins (all painof which is, don't wear a truss when you can be cured without danger or pain, and at small sacrifice of time and expense.

Varicoccle in either operations or medicine. As proof of my entire good faith in the declarations herein made, I hereby offer $500 for any weil-anthenticated case of Varico-cle, in its aggravated. form, that has been permanently cured by any regular or irregular physician in Washington. Scores of unfortunates call upon me every week who have been injured or ruined by these alleged "scientific methods." I have any amount of money to back up my claim that I am the only physician without operations, pain, medicine, or detention

You may be an excellent servant in many ways, but you say you don't use Pearline for washing and cleaning -you can't be bright. My poor girl, soap takes up your time and wears out the things with the rubbing. No, you're not bright enough for me." Well, the lady is bright, to say the least. Evidently she has had the best of teachers -experience. Have you? "Yes!"-then you use Pearline. "No!"-then you had best begin at once. Ask some friend about Pearline. 288

LADIES TURN OUT IN FORCE Builders' Exchange Hall Filled With the Elite and Fashion of Washington.

Dr. Damon a Public Benefactor vince people of anything. Even the most skeptical cannot go back of such facts as Dr. Damon and associated physicians have been giving the people of Washington for over a year. For months these men have stood upon the open stage at the above hall, in the presence of large audiences, and quick-ity relieved all forms of human suffering, until early 1,000 of the worthy poor of the city have een treated and cured. All the ills flesh is beir o have been successfully treated, until now his 'marvelous works" are the talk of the city Rheumatism, paralysis, heart and lung troubles, change diseases, are cured by this new process when everything else has fulled. The question is often asked why this man should have such a power when to all appearances he is like other mea. Those who profess to be well up in occult the Moody choir at the New York Avenue science explain it by saying that it is simply gift of vital magnetic force, with which he was born. Be that as it may, his associate, Dr. May nard, exhibits fully as worderful a power in the alleviation of human suffering. These gentlemen have given ample proof that they are endowed with some power, by and through which they can, and do, relieve suffering. Yesterday some fifteen or more were quickly relieved. One old lady, who few moments, while several cases of deafness were made to hear a whileper in from three to five other systems of practice are fast giving up their prejudices, having been corvinced by actual ob-Jamin, Mr. Hunt, Mrs. J. B. Hood, Mr. J. P. Jackson, unknown friend, Mrs. Dr. Keech, Woodward & Lothrop.
